

THIS WOMAN'S SICKNESS

Quickly Yielded To Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Baltimore, Md.—"I am more than glad to tell what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did for me. I suffered dreadful pains and was very irregular. I became alarmed and sent for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I took it regularly until I was without a cramp or pain and felt like another person, and it has now been six months since I took any medicine at all. I hope my little note will assist you in helping other women. I now feel perfectly well and in the best of health."—Mrs. AUGUST W. KONDNER, 1632 Hollins Street, Baltimore, Md.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, contains no narcotic or harmful drugs, and to-day holds the record of being the most successful remedy for female ills we know of, and thousands of voluntary testimonials on file in the Pinkham laboratory at Lynn, Mass., seem to prove this fact.

For thirty years it has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has restored the health of thousands of women who have been troubled with such ailments as displacements, inflammation, ulceration, tumors, irregularities, etc.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

"THE BRIDGE OF THE GODS"

MISS MABEL FERRIS.

Of Los Angeles, California. Author of "The Bridge of the Gods."

Love of the spectacular and of realistic presentation of historic incidents has found its most recent and most enthusiastic expression in popular approval of pageant drama. In England, after two years of pageant drama, the demand for new and greater productions continues to increase till it has become a common saying among theatrical folk that "England has gone pageant mad." In America a comparatively few trials have yielded such brilliant success that the public has awakened to the magnificent possibilities and opportunities offered by our own national history and legendary romance.

The "Bridge of the Gods."

Miss Ferris' dramatization of F. H. Balch's story "The Bridge of the Gods" won instantaneous approval as an "outdoor" theatrical when it was first produced at Astoria, Washington, in 1911 on the occasion of the centennial celebration of that city. Its tragic theme and beauty of diction, its blending of history and aboriginal legend, its realism and magnificence of stage setting made it famous in a single night.

Leading producers of the world sought it. A contract was closed with Lee Keedick of New York City, a producer of high-class spectacular works. A little elaboration of the original production placed it in a class by itself—a pageant drama, combining the dramatic with the spectacular in a manner not excelled by any other similar production.

New to The Southwest.

Pageant drama has never been attempted in the southwest, and when a proposition was made to the Oklahoma Panama-Pacific Exposition Commission to undertake the production of this work, the commissioners hesitated. It was a serious undertaking.

SEPTEMBER APPLE BLOSSOMS

Realism is the keynote of every scenic effect in the spectacular pageant drama, "The Bridge of the Gods," which is to be presented at Belle Isle park in Oklahoma City by Oklahoma talent on the evenings of September 2, 3, 4 and 5 for the benefit of the Oklahoma building at the Panama-Pacific exposition.

All scenes except the introductory are laid in the Cascade mountains of Oregon. The introductory scene is laid in Massachusetts colony in 1690, showing a Puritan church sending out the first missionary to the Indians. The season is the springtime, and to add to its realism an apple tree in full bloom is included in the setting. This will be a real apple tree transplanted upon the "stage" for that special purpose, only the blooms will be artificial.

Several big trees will be transplanted on the "stage" especially for this event and kept alive and green by copious irrigation.

SWANS AS ACTORS IN DRAMA.

One of the most impressive and most beautiful scenes enacted in "The Bridge of the Gods," the pageant drama which is to be presented at Belle Isle park in Oklahoma City September 2, 3, 4 and 5 for the benefit of the Oklahoma building at the Panama-Pacific exposition, is one in which Wulah, the Oriental princess daughter of the great chief Multnomah, feeds a group of swans and charms them with her soft music of her flute.

A special lake will be made as a part of the stage setting and a "family" of swans, including several baby swans, will be placed in it for this scene. The swans will be "rehearsed" so that they will do their part in the act as well as the Indian maidens who feed them.

Notice

The public is hereby notified that I will apply to the board of pardons and thereafter to the governor on the 12th day of August, 1914, for a parole on the grounds that I am not guilty of the crime for which I was convicted.

Money-getters—the Want Ads.

Success would mean the success of their plans for erecting a creditable building and maintaining an exhibit during the exposition. Failure might bring disaster.

But the accomplishing of big things requires big enterprises. A contract was made on terms very liberal to the commission, because Miss Ferris, as a loyal Californian, wanted to aid in any enterprise that would add to the success of the great exposition.

After the contract was closed Miss Ferris came to Oklahoma City, being en route from New York to San Francisco, and personally selected the place for the staging of her production. She chose a spot in Belle Isle park which she enthusiastically declared to be ideal.

"Not a single line or feature of the drama needs to be eliminated for we will have everything in the way of natural and artificial scenic effects—water, trees, shrubbery, ideal setting for the mountain background—and the acoustic properties are as perfect as any outdoor spot I have ever seen," she declared.

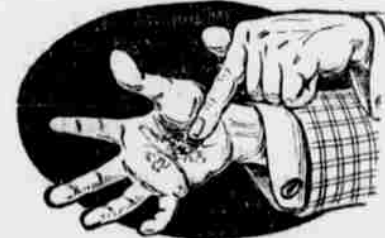

Dates of Production.

The dates for the presentation of the pageant drama have been set for the evenings of September 2, 3, 4, and 5. Four presentations were considered necessary in order to accommodate people from all sections of the state. An amphitheatre that will seat four thousand people is being built. Seats will be reserved far in advance by parties from various cities and towns and so dated as to take care of all without crowding.

The benefit being for a state-wide enterprise it is expected that excursion parties will be organized in many towns of the state, and in some cases special trains will be run in order to better accommodate the people.

Splendid Remedy For Eczema

Also for Salt Rheum, Acne, Tetter, Psoriasis and Other Skin Troubles.

After using S. S. S. for a while, the characteristic marks of all skin troubles change completely. When eczema has become chronic the lower skin loses its power to divert impurities and thus they continue to gather in the weak spots or those already attacked. The action of S. S. S. is that of an antidote, and this fact has been demonstrated time and time again in the most severe forms of weeping eczema.

Its influence in the tissues where the tiny arteries transfer the red blood for the warm blood to the veins is quite remarkable and goes on constantly with every tick of the clock—the heat of the heart.

And new skin is thus caused to form while the germs of irritating influences that cause eczema are scattered and their harmful nature entirely suspended. S. S. S. has a wonderful tonic influence in the blood because it contains no "drugs" is entirely free of any mineral drugs or any other drugs except the remarkable medicinal effect of the pure vegetable products of which it is made.

Few people realize how harmful are many of the strong, crude ointments that need to be in favor before they learned the S. S. S. is safe, speedy and sure. Ask any drug store for a bottle of S. S. S. Give it a good trial and you will soon see a decided improvement in any form of skin trouble. Write to The Swift Specific Co., 538 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., for special free advice and new book on skin or blood trouble.

GRAND MUSICAL NUMBERS IN "THE BRIDGE OF THE GODS."

"The strongest plea for universal peace ever written" is the way in which one Journalist characterized the magnificent pageant drama, "The Bridge of the Gods."

A chorus of about a hundred voices, a full orchestra and a band with full instrumentation are required for rendition of the musical numbers in this superb pageant drama which is to be presented by Oklahoma talent at Belle Isle park in Oklahoma City September 2, 3, 4 and 5 for the benefit of the Oklahoma building at the Panama-Pacific exposition.

Prof. Chas. M. Bliss of Oklahoma City will have charge of the musical features. Prof. Bliss has no superior in the southwest as a musical director of chorus and orchestra. The musical features will measure up to the dramatic and scenic effects of the production.

At the tragic and thrilling close of the drama, Chief Multnomah dies of a broken heart because of the loss of his power, the death of his daughter and the chief to whom he had given her. The warriors take up the body of the dead chief, carry it to the river's edge, place it in a canoe, set the canoe afloat and push it from the shore. As the blazing craft drifts away the death wail is raised, the tragic figure of the lone convert of the white missionary appears against the lurid sky—darkness descends, the tragic tale is told.

Then burst forth the strains of many national airs of all the nations of the earth, the stage fills with men and women in costumes of every race with flags and symbols. In kaleidoscopic colors the groups are formed, Old Glory takes the center of the stage. Enters "The Spirit of Peace," bearing aloft two white doves. The ensemble joins in the singing of "The Hymn of International Peace."

SAVES DAUGHTER

Advice of Mother no Doubt Prevents Daughter's Untimely End.

Ready, Ky.—"I was not able to do anything for nearly six months," writes Mrs. Laura Bratcher, of this place, "and was down in bed for three months."

I cannot tell you how I suffered with my head, and with nervousness and womanly troubles.

Our family doctor told my husband he could not do me any good, and he had to give it up. We tried another doctor, but he did not help me.

At last, my mother advised me to take Cardui, the woman's tonic. I thought it was no use for I was nearly dead and nothing seemed to do me any good. But I took eleven bottles, and now I am able to do all of my work and my own washing.

I think Cardui is the best medicine in the world. My weight has increased, and I look the picture of health.

If you suffer from any of the ailments peculiar to women, get a bottle of Cardui today. Delay is dangerous. We know it will help you, for it has helped so many thousands of other weak women in the past 50 years.
